The criminations and recriminations that have disquietes the Department of Public Parks have designed into past culminated at yesterday's partiag of the Commissioners in a resolution railing on the Mayor to make an investigation. the trouble in the department appears on the surface to be connected with the payment of a for $15,000 to the contractor for the Riverside Park, and also with the control of the leases and licenses in the public parks. The ambition of enever more of the Commissioners to be President of the department, which pays a salary of good a year, and which position is now occupied by Mr. Wenman, is said to be indirectly a feature of the separable. At the last few sessions of the Board the vote on nearly all questions affecting the parks has been three to one—Meases. Weaman, Conover, and Wetmore standing in the affirmative, and Mr. Lane in the minority. On the 20th of fast month they had a stormy gathering, and the epithet. Har, "with a strong adjective horizon in the silent of the payer of the members, although it did not appear on the minutes shown by Secretary Barker to the reporters.

The payment of the #15,000 to the Riverside Park contractor was made last November. Mr. Lane voted against the bill, and after it was approved by his associates he filed a protest with the Mayer and the comptroller azainst its payment. Mr. Lane afterward withdrew his project and the contractor got his money. Mr. Conover was that a gentleman went to the cottractor after the protest had been filed and said to min; "If you will give me $500 to give to Commissioner Lane I will see that the countractor had an account, the check was subsequently returned from the Schonectady bank as not good. that the next day Mr. Lane's protest was withdrawn.

President Wenman's story is that Mr. Lane was instigated by ex-President Martin of the Board, and his brother. Howard A. Martin, against auditing bills when presented. His version of the $500 check affair is that the contractor went to the bank and got it cashed in fifty-dollar notes, which he got change d at another bank into one five hundred dollar bank note, which he handed to the gentleman who accompanied him. Mr. Wenman adds that a gentleman met him on the day of the transaction and said to him." The protest will be withdrawn to morrow. He avers that the five hundred dollars went to Mr. Lane, relying on a letter wittle by the contractor to support his allegation.

Mr. Lane says that he protested against the

I have says that he protested against the crisite payment of $15,000, because he besid the work imperfectly done, Afterward of his colleagues, Mr. Wenman and Mr. ever, started a report among the 400 and laborers employed by the contractor is was opposing them, and he was tireativith mobility. He learned that the men been working for less than a dollar a day, that many of their families suffered for to load; and for those reasons and better catheteners, and knowing that the city cause the contractor had promised to do better work in the future, and knowing that the city was secured by thirty per cent, withheld until final payment, he consented to withdraw his paid by the city, and the contractor, as he charges, turned it over to the Produce Bank, from which he had been obtaining bans. The laborers did not receive a cent. Mr. Lane says that he recently learned that a man who had been connected with him in a business matter, and who was a friend of the contractor, had offered at the time the project was on file to try to arrange the matter withest work. was on file to try to arrange the matter with and had actually got $500 for the purp se file mening him. When the Board met yesterday morning all When the Board met yesterday morning all four Commissioners were in attendance, but their proceedings were carried on with closed doors, much to the disappointment of many persons who had come to witness a row. After the adjournment the secretary furnished a sammary of his minutes. Fresident Wenman offered resolutions as follows:

The resolutions received the votes of Com-the sea to the Board, with a view of exaling the dispensive which were experienced at the close of the year 1578, when the maintenance moneys were exhausted in the early partiol October.

President Wenman said that the resolutions were unnecessary. The reductions made in the force of employees at the last meeting of the Board would make a corresponding reduction in the expenses, and keep them within the appropriation. Mr. Lane predeted that the money on hand would not last beyond the 1st of November, His resolution was tabled.

The reference to licenses in Mr. Wenman's resolution is directed at Mr. Lane. According to a statement made by Mr. Conover Mr. Lane was empowered by the Board in July to take charge of the decenses and leases in the public parss. He sent for the tennits and found that considerable money was owed by them to the city. Policemen Accused of Many Misdemeanors

Eighteen policemen were summoned before Mr. Morrison, vesterday, to answer for assaults and other offences against citizens. Not all were tried, the complainants failing to appear in many cases, while others were adjourned on account of the absence of material witnesses. Of these latter was that of Mrs. Schahn of South Fifth avenue and Grand street, who accused Policeman Hart of the Prince street station with pulling her from her stoop at 1 A. M., Aug. 1., beating her with his club, and causing her to fall so violently that her head was badly bruised against the side-walk. There were no witnesses to sustain the allegations of the complainant, while Hart dealied touching her and impeached her character. Mrs. Bensley of 447 West Twenty-third street accused Policenan Decker, of the Twemisth street police, of failing to arrest a man whom she charged with cruelty to animals, as he was driving a lame horse. She also had no witnesses, while the policeman proved that the horse was not lame, and that Mrs. Bensley refused to go to the station and make the charge of cruelty there.

Policeman Keily of the Union Market police, who was accussed of breaking a baker's window with a potato and refusing to pay for the same, charged himself by the testimony of the baker, who acknowledged that he had paid since the ciarge was made.

McCormack failed to show that he was clubbed in the cell, and did not entirely prove the prodding.

Mary Ann French, the mother of ten children, made rafiliavit yesterday that Policeman Sheridan of the Prince street police on Tuesday night had strested her for no offence, in her own doorway, at 103 Charlton street, and clubbed her all the way to the station, breaking her tech, and bruising her about the body. IMPRISONED BY HIS KINDRED.

Young Risby to an Unwilling Bride. David H. Risby, aged 22 years, son of the ate Col. Risby, was arraigned in the Harlem Police Court yesterday, charged with grand larceny by his brother, Charles A. his brother had been leading a very wild life, and had stolen various articles from the house and pawned them. It was charged that he had stolen two suits of clothes valued at $50, a gold watch and chain, a quantity of silver forks and spoons, a silver tea service, and other articles. Justice Kilbreth committed the prisoner for trial in default of $1,000 bail.

In December last, David H. Risby was arrested for forcing Miss Jessie Hunt to marry him under most peruliar circumstances. Miss Hunt, a music teacher, 21 years old, gave instruction to Risby's young sister. On Dec. 7, while she was at their house, young Risby entered the parlor and told his sister to quit the room. After she had gone, he asked Miss Hunt to marry him. She told him she would not. He produced a razor, and, catching her by the arm, vowed that if she would not at once become his wife, he would kill her on the spot. The girl was so terrified that she promised to do as he said, if he would not harm her. He then led her into the street, and, keeping a firm hold on her arm, conducted her to the residence of the Rev. Samuel H. Virgin. They entered the minister's house, and the marriage ceremony was performed. The newly married couple separated on the steps of the Rev. Mr. Virgin's house, the groom going to his place of business and the unwilling bride hastening to her home. On the following day the young man was arrested. A preliminary examination was made, but owing to the complainant's nerves being shattered an adjournment was decided upon, and Risby was held in $2,000 bail. The examination was postponed many times, and finally Miss Hunt, as is alleged, having been prevailed upon by Risby's relatives, consented to withdraw the charge. She did not recognize him as her husband, and she has never spoken to him since. Risby became very dissipated, and his relatives claim that this affair has been the cause of his subsequent misconduct.

TO WALK OR NOT TO WALK.

THE DISPUTE AS TO THE ASTLEY MATCH NOT YET ENDED.

Madison Square Garden Confidently Offered by the Lessees and Refused by the Owners -The "Pic-Enter's" Latest Discovery. It is difficult to determine who has the best right to be confident, but it is nevertheless a fact that, in the dispute between the owners of the Madison Square Garden, the present lessees, and the persons who are to conduct the contest for the O'Leary pedestrian prize there in October, there is no sign of weaken-ing in any quarter. Al Smith, who is a conspicuous member of the O'Leary party, said yesterday that Mr. C. C. Vanderbilt told him that he would not permit the walk for the Astley belt to take place there under the present lease of the premises to Dodworth, Botsford, and Kuntz. Mr. Smith says that Mr. Vanderbilt has put the matter in the proper bands, and the walk will be prevented. Mr. Smith has paid in advance to Mr. Vanderbilt the requisite proportion of the rental of the Garden for the October entertainment, and is assured that no previous pedestrian contest shall take place in the Garden to the detriment of his opportunity for money making in October, In support of this Mr. Van Arsdale, who manages the real estate owned by the New York and Harlem Railroad, said yesterday to a Sun reporter: "Mr. Vanderbilt has decided that there shall be no walking contest in the Garden under the present lease, and in his own time and in his own way he will stop it if one is be-gun. He wrote to the lessees announcing this, but has received no reply to his letter, so that there is no change in the situation. A rumor is in print to-day that a compromise has been effected, and the walk will take place somewhere else, but of this Mr. Vanderbilt has heard nothing." Mr. Van Arsdale would not say in what manner Mr. Vanderbilt proposes to act. On the other hand, Mr. O. H. Dodworth said yesterday that" the contest for the Astley belt will positively take place in the Madison Square Garden, beginning on the night of the 21st of Garden, beginning on the hight of the 21st of this month."

"All of the lessees and others concerned in the matter are of one voice." and Mr. Dod-worth. "and the only trouble we have expe-rienced is with those people from Kelly & Bliss's, who tell us that 'in one way or another' the walk will be stopped. ready. We shall trust to Capt. Williams to preserve order."

"But Mr. Vanderbilt says he will prevent the walk from taking place!"

"Well, we've heard that he says so, but I am not certain that it is true. It is said that a letter was written to us by him in which he announced that intention. No one of us has received any such letter from him or from any one else. It is said that the letter in question was dated June 21. That is most astonishing, for at that time the Astley walk in London had not taken place, and we never dreamed of having a walking match here."

"How can Mr. Vanderbilt prevent you from holding the contest here, if he wants to?" the writer asked.

"Why, I don't know," Mr. Dodworth replied:
"he might serve an injunction upon us, but Yesterday the chunky inttle Englishman began to practises at 3 o'cleck in the alternoon, and, after running and walking for two hours in his racing costume, made up of a cap, a striped shirt, white trousers and shoes and stockings he ran into a dressing room and donned heavy flannel underclothing and a thick cont and scarl. Thus clad he dashed around the track until he perspired violently. His purpose was to wear down his superfluous flesh. He is much heavier than when he won the belt, but his doctor says there is very little fat about him. He is more solid and in better condition, in the opinion of his friends. The peculiar fact is noticed that his weight is reduced by gradual thinning in the back and between his salves, and the boast is made that this is all muscle. If has been reported that he declared yesterday that he could walk 600 miles in the coming contest. He denies this and says, simply, that he's going to try to win."

Blower Brown has departed from the city. He had been stopping at the Ashiand House, but all that is known of him there is that hesaid he was going to "giesey" to train, and that he has determined to enter for the O'Leary belt, and notto walk for the Asley trophy. At Kelly & Bliss's, in Twenty-eighth street, it was said yesterday that Brown is training at the West Side Driving Park, back of Jersey City.

Norman Taylor, "the ple-easter." who is entered for the Weston walk, is practising on the Manhattan Athletic Club track in this city. He says he made one hundred and seventy miles inst week, and may do better this week. He thinks he will be able to do herole work under the stimulus of the lig

JUVENILE LUNGS IN PERIL. An Effort in Behalf of the Boys who Blox

The steamship Main of the Bremen line brought to this city on Aug. 22 the "Austro-Hungarian Cadet Band" of thirty musicians, whose ages ranged from 8 to 16 years. They were in the charge of Gustav Amberg, an agent of the Atlantic Garden, in the Bowery. The children were brought in the steerage. Amberg and his family came as first cabin passengers. On their arrival the children were quartered in the top story of the house at 24 Elizabeth street. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children was notified that the children were to perform in the Atlantic Garden, and Superintendent Jenkins wrote to Mr. Amberg that he would violate the law of 1875 if he allowed children under sixteen years of age to perform.

tendent Jenkins wrote to Mr. Amberg that he would violate the law of 1875 if he allowed children under sixteen years of age to perform. Amberg replied that he did not care; he had permission from the Emperor of Austria to employ the children.

The band has played the past week in the Garden, and Officer Lundberg of the Society for the Prevention of Crueity to Children, who was detailed to investigate the case, says that the children have played four hours every evening and at matiness on four days in the week. On such days they played eight hours a day, with brief intermissions. They were dressed in a crimson uniform and they played brass instruments nearly as large as themselves. Lundberg says that, as far as he can learn, Amberg went to Hungary and secured a number of children from an orphan asylum with permission to employ them in the United States for two years, on the payment of a stated sum to the asylum. Other children were picked up until the required number of thirty was obtained. As to the alleged permission of the Emperor of Austria, Hugo Fritsch, the Austrian Consul, said if there had been a Government arrangement he would have known of it. He knew nothing about these children. One of them is only 8 years old, and six are 9 years old.

On Tuesday Justice Bixby issued a warrant for the arrest of Amberr, who appeared in the Jefferson Market Police Court the same day and offered to surrender himself. He was told to return yesterlay. He appeared in court yesterday, in company with Christian Cramer, one of the proprietors of the Atlantic Garden: William Weber, the musical instructor of the children whose cases were to be made tests had been subpognaed, but they did not appear. Owing to their absence the examination was adjourned to this morning. Amberg agreed to produce the children. Superintendent Jenkins asked Justice Bixby to forbid the performance this even for a strong man to play. Berious lung troubles would be occasioned. He mentioned the case of little Tommy Fish, the cornetist, whom it was neces Gustave Amberg, manager of the cadet band, says that three months ago he went to Europe to secure a company of actors for the new Thalia Theatre, formerly the Old Bowery Theatre, and to procure the Cadet Band for the Atlantic Garden. He procured the children in Arad. Bohemia. There is in that town an institution styled the "Conservatory of Austrian Military Bands." It is a school for the training and instruction of children, to fit them for musicians. The children are not orphans. They were engaged with the permission of the parents, of the superintendent of the Conservatory, and of the Justices of the district. The agreement was countersigned by the American Consul at the place. On Saturdays the pay of the musicians is forwarded by mail to the Conservatory, where it is distributed to the parents of the children.

Some persons are surprised at the number of prizes, ranging from one hundred to thirty thousand dollars, paid by the Louisiana State Lotter; Company on the occasion of each monthly drawing; and now and then one is found to express a doubt of the genuineness of the announcements made in the public prints of the lucky ticket holders. It needs only a moment's thought to see that if a lottery is honestly conducted, all the prizes will be drawn whenever all the tickets of the scheme are soid. It cannot be otherwise. For example, all the tickets of the scheme of the Louisiana State Lottery Company drawn at New Orleans on the 12th uit, were sold, and consequently every one of its 1.857 prizes was paid to ticket holders. As people who are in luck are free to let it be known, it is not at all remarkable that a good deal is said by two thousand fortunate per sons all taking at once, nor that the newspapers take it up and make the facts widely known. This will, of course, continue to be the case each month; and it may be expected that a great deal will continue to be said of the company doing it, and that the number of persons who will hopefully invest will steadily increase,

No man buys a ticket with a certainty of suc-cooding. He does not ask that unless he is very silly, for he knows that in the nature of the case he is taking his chances; but what he does ask. and what he has a right to expect and what he does get in the Louisiana State Lottery, is an

All of the other Italian witnesses testified that they all not know who stabbed Morano. The prisoner's lawyer moved that Judge Cowing direct the jury to acquit Vermonti. The Judge said, indignantly. It is very trying to me to have to entertain such a motton, in view not only of this case, but of many other cases like it. It is becoming a subject for serious concern on the part of the people of this city and State that it is almost impossible to convict an Italian of the class to which the prisoner a pears to belong. The calendar of this court is burdened with cases wherein the Aniles or, the jitted is recklessly used, often with the result of death, by an Italian of this class but it is the court of the prisoner than bout incan on the Irriends of the dead man appear to be more on an or the Irriends of the dead man appear to be more man or the Irriends of the country that gives them shelter matrice land. This is a handing tocether to defeat justice. Every circunstance that may miner the prisoner is forcation. from which they suffered in their native land. There is a banding tocether to defeat outice. Every circumstance that may induce the prisoner is forefacten, and the escapes. This himmonity has a most perincious effect. Among the minitellacent class that it benefits it is understood to be a hierase to cut, stab, and shoot whenever a fancted wrong prompts. How long will they confine the time of the kinde and pistol to men of their own class? Illus soon may they begin to wound or slay you or me? But there is, as usual, as insufficiency of evidence, and I must relicatantly direct you to acquit the prisoner. The larly acquitted Vermonii. "I have here, your flooner, and Assastant District Attorney Rollins," a letter from a responsible person warning the that the prisoner's remains had made every effort to assure Vermonii's acquittal.

Great Britain has taken 17,000,000 gallons of the above quantity, which is 1,000,000 gallons in excess of 1878. The heaviest European buyer is Germany. That country has this year taken more than 40,000,000 gallons from New York alone, against less than 29,000,000 gallons for the same time last year. Other European countries are also large consumers. The shipments from New York to India, China, Japan, and the East Indies, from Jan. 1 to Aug. 15 were over 24,000,000 gallons in the same time last year.

The survey of the proposed coast railroad from San Francisco to Half Moon Bay is said to be completed and the capital for its construction secured. Begresentatives of the corporation are now in the county investigating the productive capacity of the region tributary to the road with a view to determining its probable business. Should these reports be favorable it is likely that the road will at once be commenced, in which case it will be built to Spanishtown within one year.

A lively discussion has been going on lately in the financial columns of the London Times respecting the rights of railway debenture shareholders. From all that has been said on the subject it would appear that such shareholders have nothing but a preferential claim on the net earnings of the railway, if there are any, and if they are not paid their dividends they cannot enforce the sale of the railway to reimburse themselves for their investment. What is worse, Parliament has, and sometimes exercises, the nower to cancel their shares on payment to them of an arbitrarily fixed price which may be less than par. As one of the parties to the discussion remarks, this being the case, it is a pity that Parliament has authorized trustees to invest in this class of securities, for infinite mischief must ensue.

This morning's London Financier says: "In consequence of the movement of Parls and New York exchanges in favor of London, the gold from the East which had been taken for transmission to New York was kept back and sent into the Bank of England."

The London Times, reviewing the prospects of the iron trade, the improvement in which, in consequence of the American demand, forms the subject for numerous speeches and newspaper articles says: "It is a significant fact that, while every Bessemer converter in the United Ktates is in full swing, there are no less than forty-four idle in the United Kingdom." States is in this swing, there are no less than forty-four idie in the United Kingdom."

Further official statistics state that the Italian harvest of this year shows a deficiency of 10,000,000 quintals of maize, 5,000,000 quintals of wheat, and 2,000,000 quintals of other grain.

The lease of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern Radiroad, which has been the subject of much speculative discussion for some time past, was virtually accomplished yesterday. It was expected that the Chicago and Northwestern would be the lesses, but this expectation was not fulfilled. The Secretary of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Radiroad Company is authority for the statement that his company is authority for the statement that his company is authority for the statement that his company has made a lease of the road subject to the approval of the stockholders. The terms offered by the Rock Island are slightly better than those offered by the Northwestern Company, and are, viz.; A guarantee of a dividend upon the stock of three per cent, for three years, four per cent, for two years, and five per cent, thereafter, and the interest upon the bonds of the company. The unissued stock and bonds are not considered in the transaction. The amount of stock outstanding is $5,500,000, and of bonds $5,145,800. The interest upon the bonds is five per cent, a $15,00,000 and of bonds $5,145,800. The interest upon the bonds is five per cent, and the remainstant of the Minneapolis and St. Louis Radiroad Company are also guaranteed by the lesses company. The amount of stock unissued is $4,500,000 and of bonds $504,200. Under the lease neither of these securities are to be issued. The Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern is to run its ewn road for three months to come, It is also understood that the suits of the trustees of Henry Clews & Co. exercise an influence upon the confirmation of the lease.

Our Washington correspondent telegraphs: The banks seem to be holding the called tenforty bonds with some tenacity, evidently hoping that there will be a fall in the four per cents shorty.
